There's a crazy moon, a crazy sky
Looking down on me
I've been losing track of time

It's been the hardest day
The longest night I've ever spent alone
I can't get you off my mind

You know what I've been missing
Do I really have to say?
We talk but you don't listen
It's not always been that way

No, she's a stranger, stranger
You're not the girl I knew, will you ever be the same?
You act like a stranger, stranger, tell me it ain't true
Won't you please explain, why you're so strange?

In the morning gloom, this empty room
I can see your face
When I look again, you're gone

Your memory so close to me
It leaves a trace
Won't you tell me what went wrong?

No sign, no words, no warning
We can never be the same, no
When you walked out that morning
You know, you left nothing but the blame

I know that you're a stranger, stranger
You're not the girl I knew, will you ever be the same?
You act like a stranger, stranger, tell me it ain't true
Won't you please explain, why you're so strange?

Oh, you're a stranger, stranger
You're not the girl I knew, will you ever be the same?
You act like a stranger, stranger, tell me it ain't true
Won't you please explain, why you're so strange?

Stranger, stranger

You're not the girl I knew, will you ever be the same?
You act like a stranger, stranger, tell me it ain't true
Won't you please explain, why you're so strange?
