I can't sleep tonight
Manhattan skyline keeps shining through
I just call out your name
Pray to God I make it home to you

If there's such a thing as forever
Then I want to spend the time with you

You're never alone when you love someone
Even when they're so far away
You're never alone when you need someone
Just close your eyes and drift away
When you love someone

I made you promises
Did I let you down with those little white lies?
You let me hold on to my shattered dreams
And you never walked no damn one step behind

If there's such a thing as forever
Then I want to spend the time with you

You're never alone when you love someone
Even when they're so far away
You're never alone when you need someone
Just close your eyes and drift away

Heaven knows I'm a friend to you

I brought my whole love around you
Never want to let you slip away
I wanna be the air that surrounds you
And when I think what you wanna do
I guess there's nothing left to say

The night fades away
Oh, I think of you as I face another day
You see, tomorrow I'm coming home to you
God only knows how I made a fool

You're never alone when you love someone
Even when they're so far away

You're never alone when you need someone
Just close your eyes and drift away

You're never alone when you love someone
Even when they're so far away
You're never alone when you need someone
Close your eyes and drift away
Baby, drift away

You're never alone when you love someone
You're never alone even when they're so far away
When you love someone
You're never alone when you need someone
Just close your eyes and drift away
