Id like to remember you the way you look this very moment
But now were past it and Im memorizing that you were in it Someone has to make the move to say good-bye so say good-bye
Its over now, it's over now, it's over now ...
Your eyes are still off-center on your face, it's strange to mention
Its been a year or so since Ive been aware of your imperfections
I can't imagine loving someone else but I will work it out
Its over now, it's over now, it's over now ...
Well make the same mistakes again weve got our methods down
Its over now, it's over now, it's over now ...
When I was seventeen I felt emotions unknown to mankind
The love I had, the pain I felt began when it was mine Now as the end approaches I roll my eyes No, not again.
Its over now, it's over now, it's over now ...
And if you change your mind just call me
And if you change your mind I'll be here Youve got about a week or so until forever disappears
Id like to remember you the way you looked the day we met
But as you're walking out the door Im starting to forget Ill always love you until someone else gets my attention
Its over now, it's over now, it's over now ...
Well make the same mistakes again weve got our
methods down
Its over now, it's over now, it's over now ...
