She lives by the sea
The sea gives her everything she's ever dreamt about
Some time to smoke has she
A suitor somewhere kind of alright by me
She may pass you by
Look straight through your eyes
But you wouldn't change her
And this she knows.

He lives by the sea
The sea gives him everything he's ever dreamt about
He may pass you by
Look straight through your eyes
But you wouldn't change him
And this he knows
You wouldn't change him
And this he knows

They may pass you by
Look straight through your eyes
But you wouldn't change
And this they know
That you wouldn't change
And this they know
That you shouldn't change
And this they know.
