She's simply awesome.

She dashed by me in painted-on jeans

And all heads turned cos' she was the cream.
In the blink of an eye I knew her number and her name

She said I was the tiger she wanted to tame.

European Queen
Now we're sharing the same dream

And our hearts they beat as one. No more love on the run.

I lose my cool when she steps in the room

And I get so excited just from her perfume.
Electric eyes that you can't ignore

And passion burns you like never before.
I was in search of a good time just running my game
Yeah.
Love was the furthest
Furthest from my mind.

European Queen
Now we're sharing the same dream

European Queen
Now we're sharing the same dream. . . .
