If I never see your smile again
I never walked to touch your skin
The truth would be so plain to see
If I couldn't love you I wouldn't be me

If the night couldn't kiss the morning sun
Like a river that has no place to run
God only knows where I might be
If I couldn't love you I wouldn't be me

If you had not come into my life
I'd be forever wondering why
I never found my destiny
If I couldn't love you I wouldn't be me

And when the Master calls us home
I hope and pray our hearts as one
And beat as one eternally
'Cause If I couldn't love you I wouldn't be me
God only knows where I might be
If I couldn't love you I wouldn't be me

If you had not come into my life
I'd be forever wondering why
I never found my destiny
If I couldn't love you I wouldn't be me

Never found my destiny
If I couldn't love you I wouldn't be me

No, no, no
No way
