Rain keeps on falling down, world keeps on spinnin' around

The grass grows and the sky's still just as blue Ah that dress still has your name, nothing out here feels the same

Lonely wins every time without you

I still drink my coffee black, I still wear that same old hat

The one you gave me back in nineteen ninety-two When I wear it I seldom smile, I take it off and think of you awhile

Lonely wins every time when I'm without you

Lonely wins every time

Lonely wins every time without you

I still get your picture down, the one you on that merry-go-round

What a day we had, just us two

I guess it was at the County Fair, I won you that big old teddy bear

That's the first time we said 'I love you'

Lonely wins every time

Lonely wins every time without you

Come on back here baby, yeah

Lonely wins every time

Lonely wins every time without you

Lonely wins every time

Lonely wins every time I'm without you

Lonely wins

Lonely wins

Lonely wins
