Billy Ray Cyrus
"Only Time Will Tell"

There was a time for you
There was a time for me
There was a time when we were one
It's time to see through cloudy days
A time when we can find our way
Through thick and thin we still had fun

But as all those things have to change
Nothing ever remains the same
I made mistakes, you made some too
I guess there's things we just can't undo
Does this mean we're through

Now it's time to make it clear
Do you still want me here
Or would you'd rather me move on down the line
Please help me try to understand
Tell me if it's got plans
Heaven or hell only time will tell

Tell me should I stop believing
Pack my bags and just stop feeling
But baby one kiss might say farewell
Only time will tell, only time will tell
Only time will tell, only time will tell
