Urban Hipster, the new gangster frontin' by the club
A new wave mannequins packin' haircuts, instead of packin' guns
Magazines form overseas, won't teach you how to feel They trade in their hearts for Indie rock charts to tell them what is real

When did they assume putting on a costume?
Gave them a right to ostracize
Out of the woodwork, art aficionados
Answer one question

Where is the line? Where is the line?
Between your fashion and your mind
Where is the line? Where is the line?
'Cause some of us aren't blind

Where is the line? Where is the line?
To be your self is not a crime
Where is the Line? Where is the line?
'Cause some of us aren't blind

She sells street cred with no smile, at the local record store
She's acting the role and dressing the part, pretending to be bored
The truth about conformity is it bites without a sting Trends come and go but when you're alone it doesn't mean a thing

When did they assume putting on a costume?
Gave them a right to ostracize
Out of the woodwork art aficionados
Answer one question

Where is the line? Where is the line?
Between your fashion and your mind
Where is the line? Where is the line?
'Cause some of us aren't blind

Where is the line? Where is the line?
To be your self is not a crime

Where is the Line? Where is the line?
'Cause some of us aren't blind

Where is the line? Where is the line?
Between your fashion and your mind
Where is the line? Where is the line?
'Cause some of us aren't blind

Where is the line? Where is the line?
