What time is it anyway?
Where did everybody go?
I guess I sit here by myself
And have this drink alone

I'm tired of thinking 'bout the future
I'm sick of living in the past
Wondering what would happened
If the good times could last
This feeling inside me is growing

I could blame it on fate
I could blame it on God
But it's nobody's fault I'm broken
Some are born saints
Some of us are not
And I'm not
NO I'M NOT
I'm broken

The fool flapped his lips
I did my talking with my gun
And I said hell no I'm not joking
But I do regress
I think I need another shot
It's it's nobody's fault I'm broken

I wonder if there's a heaven
Cause I know there's hell
It's this worlds best kept secret
ahh it's just as well
I'm better off just not knowing

I could blame it on fate
I could blame it on God
But it's nobody's fault I'm broken
You're swear you've seen me here before
Ya I get that a lot
It must be the brand that I'm smoking
You mean I'm funny he he
Or funny ha ha
It's OK I'm only joking

But I do regress
I think I need another shot
It's nobody fault
I'm broken
