

Bitter End "Save Us"

Visit "Save Us" on MotoLyrics.com

Stormclouds loom darkly as battle is joined
It's time to prepare for the fight
Don't stand in the wings and await better things
Or you'll find out that life's passed you by

Wake up, and see the lights
Face facts 'cause you've got to fight
So don't let them grind you down
Stand tall, and don't be pushed around

Small minded people control what you think
And they've twisted our means to their ends
They'd drown us all in a sea of red ink
To put our filth to an end

Wake up, and look around
'Cause you're trapped, and these walls surround you
Can you see through their disguise?
Time's short, so open your eyes

Wake up, and look around
'Cause you're trapped, and these walls surround you
Can you see through their disguise?
Time's short, so open your fucking eyes

The day we most fear draws so quietly near They'll soon end the faults of our ways
Computer control puts us deep in the hole
We're numbered along with our days!
