I don't live for the winter freeze
I don't live for the summer breeze
I don't care about any of these
I can't help living without you
No point living without you
I don't live for the summer breeze
I don't live for the winter freeze
I don't care about any of these
I can't help living without you
No point living without your love

You know that's a lie
You know that I came through
But there's no point living without you
No point living without you
No point in living without you
No point in living without your love

You sang the tunes
Still boxed in my mind

No point in living without you
No point in living without you
No point in living without you

There's oh-no-no

Don't live for the summer breeze
I don't care about any of these
I can't help living without you
No point living without your love
