And if I knew the answers
I would tell you now
Just what would be the chances
That I could show you how

If I knew where all the tears
Were coming from
Add up all the years
That you've been gone

This is that new song
I told you about 20 years ago

Do you know what true romance is
And could you show me now
Just what would be the chances
That I could tell you how

If I knew where all the tears
Were flowing to Guide them to a river where
I'd swim with you downstream

This is that old dream
I told you about 20 years ago

And could you hold me now
