

Bitter Sweet Despair

"Hold My Breath Until My Heart Drops"

When you look into my eyes
It makes everything around me seem
Invincible and so untouchable
And when I taste your lips
That's when the blood starts rushing to my finger tips

I call you just to hear you talk
I'll hold my breath till my heart drops
Waiting for your voice...exchange hellos
And I reach out in front of me
Close my eyes and try to see
In visioning what it would be like

Home, with you in my arms
With you by my side
I'm in the car I'm on my way back
Home, where the sun only shines
Where love fills my mind
Oh the distance is terrible
