The perfect day wakes me.
The light in my eyes burns Juliet.
The one I'm looking for,
The one that walked out my front door.
Yesterday we took our time
There's nothing left beyond our minds
Now you're gone and I cant forget, oh Juliet

I'm building my dreams I'm letting you in
I'm changing my life with you to begin
I'm saving your world by saving your life
I'm taking my chance at making us right

Its the story of tragedy that never really had to be
Loves a crazy poison that always takes control of me
Wake me up,
I wont forget
The story of Saving Juliet

My life is always complete with you
I'm waiting on the one who I knew
That was then and this is now
I could love you if you show me how Yesterday was so long ago
It feels like we let ourselves go
But I wont let us forget, oh Juliet

Wake me up cause I got a little something to say
Everyday I pray for us to learn some way
To stop this pain, shock this brain
Pull something out the closet to mop this stain
I want somebody to trust at all times
And I never want to ever want to leave your side
You need me? Well I need you too
So when life gets tough you'll see I'm true
