i tell myself not to get attached but its the little things you do that drive me to the point of love i succumb to your seduction with endless laughter and bright eyes i can't stand the way i'm falling cuz soon you won't be here anymore but i'll always be here stop telling me i'm beafallingutiful stop making me laugh stop remembering what i've said stop kissing me with those lips
i can't stand the way i'm falling i said i'd never let this happen
cuz soon you won't be here anymore i'll try my hardest to forget you to replace you with meaninglessness to drink you out of my memories and kiss the taste of your lips away i want to fall with no end, no goodbye
