He looked just like a zookeeper in a human zoo
So I said, "Hey man, how the hell did they get to you Don't you know us animals, need something to do?"
Then I flew, that's when he said

"Hey, I can't deny it but I won't say anything
Hey, I can't deny it but I won't say anything
Hey, I can't deny it but I won't say anything
Unless you ask it right"

So I took my mean machine to the sacramental post
Some kid had spilled his wine on the holiest host
And I said, "Ain't it funny that machines need a ghost?"
He made a toast

"Hey, I can't deny it but I won't say anything
Hey, I can't deny it but I won't say anything
Hey, I can't deny it but I won't say anything
Unless you ask it right"

Riding to the cemetery in a righteous limousine
I plied the grim proprietor with milk and tangerines
And I said, "So you're short but are you brutish and mean?"
Then he screamed, that's when he said

"Hey, I can't deny it but I won't say anything
Hey, I can't deny it but I won't say anything
Hey, I can't deny it but I won't say anything
Unless you ask it right"
