Television

Television

Oh yeah, I want to bask in golden light

Submerge in electric waves

I need my connection to the world outside

Yeah, the world outside is buzzing like an angry wasp in summer

The candidates are running and the Son of God is coming

Crackle mental convolutions, tune into revolution

Now everyone's included so we never gonna be alone

Television

Television

Television

Oh yeah, well may be don't rely

Submerge in electric waves

I need my injection to the world outside

Yeah, every atom in my body, blood, sinew, bone and fiber

I can't distill you from my blood you're like a hungry germ inside of me

You're my lover, my heroine, my conscience and my voice

And I know that I have learned to let you in, I will never have to be alone

Television

Television

Television

Oh yeah, well may be don't rely

I'd take after my mother but she's from a teenage generation

I prefer my big brother, he's so gentle and understanding

I learn what I can by the television light

But when I'm all alone I know it's gonna be alright
