

Bad Religion

"To Much To Ask"

Visit "To Much To Ask" on MotoLyrics.com

A refreshing plunge a drink of platable water a deep inspiration on a warm summer day a safe stroll in the middle of the road community a neighbor who in times of need will not turn away I ain't no politician
I am a citizen
And I wonder if I'm living too far out of bounds community protection rehabilitation police that serve without legitimate right to maim global aareness ecological guilt cultural and environmental awakening I ain't no optimist I try to be a realist and I think that we are living too far out of bounds is it too much to ask?
Could it be the world is shrinking?
I can see the walls closing in no one can take much for granted anymore remote control three cars for every family corruption at the expense of the simple majority a violent crash a plunder of the third world any wretched ploy that bolsters our economy I ain't no blind supporter I'm a conscious citizen and I know that we are living too far out of bounds is it too much to ask?
can we keep the earth from sinking?
I can see the walls closing in
No one can take much for granted anymore (you better not take it for granted anymore) I'm not taking nothing for granted anymore

Visit Bad Religion page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.