I love you in the worst way
The only way I know
They say the clearer the water
The more that it shows

See the deeper the river
Then the stronger the love
Your eyes don't lie to me
And your smile is worth its weight in gold

This life, this life aches and this life moans
This life, this life is great
And it's better when you're
Not alone, not alone

You love me in the worst way
The only way you know
They say the higher the mountain
The more love that grows

They say the stronger the wind blow
The farther we will go
I hope you don't lie to me
There's nothing better than your touch

This life, this life aches and this life moans
This life, this life is great
And it's better when you're
Not alone, not alone

How many times does this happen?
Two people like us meet
As I try to be humble
And lay down at your feet

This life, this life aches and this life moans
Well, this life, this life is great
And it's better when you're
Not alone, not alone

Better when you're not alone
When you're not alone
