When you lost, I am found
When you slip I hold my ground
When I fall, please take a bow
And when you're up just remember I am down
Who's down, get it

People looking for fortune and fame
They don't know that it's all the same
It's like any other game
You know there's a loser but it's alright

When you feel your heart is breaking
When all your friends are faking
When it's giving and no taking
I will be by your side

I've been over the hill and back
Survived every kind of attack
It's been a few years at that
As a matter of fact

Good luck is just good luck
You don't go hungry if you got pot luck
I've been down but never on my knees
I see the forest yeah, for the trees

When you feel your heart is breaking
When all your friends are faking
When it's giving and no taking
I will be by your side

So let me tell you
When you feel your heart is breaking
And all your friends are faking
When it's giving and no taking
I will be by your side

When you feel your heart is breaking
When all your friends are faking
When it's giving and no taking
I will be by your side

I'ma be right there for you baby
[Incomprehensible]
