And if I'm not too sure about the state I'm in
I watch the circles cross and join as one
And when I'm asking for someone to begin again
I hope that you won't turn around and run
Don't we ever think about the other side my soul and I are just
Looking for some time
And if we ever get what we are looking for
Maybe we'll get something that we can't ignore
I saw a lady whose feet were covered by the sand
She won't maneuver into things she shouldn't be
And as she raised her head I saw the face of man
I could only jump back and think of what I'd seen
Spirit Rise
And if I'm not too sure about the state I'm in
I watch the circles cross and join as one
And when I'm asking for someone to begin again
I hope that you won't turn around and run
Spirit Rise
Don't we ever think about the other side
My soul and I are just looking for some time
And if we ever get what we are looking for
Maybe we'll get something that we can't ignore
