Look at this time the way that I felt Mention my mind the way it would melt Looking behind all that I see
The look on his face, the color and space. finally
All my confidence was gone, nothings for sure
We've gotta' make a run so we can make this turn
We waved the flag a thousand time and watched it fall
Once again it looks like we dropped the ball
The view from the fall, the view from the wall
Coming around and laughing at me
What does it mean the fat lady sang
We sat on the couch to count our spare change
We cried at the end finally
All my confidence was gone, nothings for sure
We've gotta' make a run so we can make this turn
We waved the flag a thousand time and watched it fall
Once again it looks like we dropped the ball
All the people in this room could destroy all that I can do is jump for joy I'm so happy I could be twins we come this far the point now has been made and you can keep the car

Taking this, taking that, talking sweet, talking trash feeling happy, feeling sad the mistake I made it wasn't so bad

Take another little piece of me
