"Only One"

Forgive the world today
Let your fears hide away
The debts you still got to pay
Belong to the earth
Of ten thousand sinners
If somethings left to be said
When wine has soaked in your bread
When dreams have conquered your head
Whisper the rhyme of ten thousand sinners
Care for me my lonely one
I dare to say you're the only one
To gather the dreams
I need to believe in
You are the only one
If you believe what youve seen
If you forget who youve been
The tears you lost in your dreams
Will water the realm of ten thousand sinners
Care for me my lonely one
I dare to say you're the only one
To gather the dreams
I need to believe in
You are the only one
Please don't leave the world today
Still somethings left upon your way
The cross that you bear
Will shine on my prayer
You are the only one
So good to see you again
Ill follow you and your nameless heir Well get anywhere on the path of ten thousand sinners
