The knowledge of my fathers is written in my books
The wisdom of the preachers on my tv
Another so called genius telling me what to do now
How to be, how to be successful ...
And maybe I'm stupid
And they are gods indeed
And maybe I'm naive
Somehow I believe
For me this is just a testflight
Just to gain an insight
This is just a checkin' out, a wonder why
For me this is just a trialrun
Just a random testing
And please don't meddle in,
This prototype is mine
Everyone is so much wiser
And everyone knows so much more Everyone knows many answers to solve the problems in my life
Everyone will tell me to rely on what he wants me to
And everyone will steal my sight telling me: use my eyes instead!
And maybe I'm stupid
And they are gods indeed
And maybe I'm naive
Somehow I believe
For me this is just a testflight
Just to gain an insight
This is just a checkin' out, a wonder why
For me this is just a trialrun
Just a random testing
And please don't meddle in,
This prototype is mine
Mine
For me this is just a testflight
Just to gain an insight
This is just a checkin' out, a wonder why
For me this is just a trialrun
Just a random testing
And please don't meddle in,
This prototype is mine

Is mine
