Close thy eyes and imagine the earth ruled by nothingness

Lost in the never-ending sea of meaninglessness was humanity

Decay of earth became their masterpiece
They surmise winning victories from their wars
Their souls vanish burning in the sands of time!

"They are too weak to consider the existence of a thing they cannot get"

Like the plague, damnation of humanity surrounds everywhere

This is the damned renaissance!
They kill their loves that they can never get again

With their remaining hatred, they are nurturing by increasing their passion

In search of truth, they lose their minds
Inescapable end: decay
Inescapable end: decay

Listen to the screams coming from the eternal silence;
Grudgeful shouts of lost souls
Look at the world enlightened by the dead light It's decaying due to the children of holy wars!

"...I opened my eyes and everything was completely dark..."
