Verse One:

Word life boo, I checked you flexin wit' cha crew lookin sweet enough to chew wit them saint eyes like tha brew, roughneck mannerism, fly disposition, ya live like channel sparkin' like mad-izm, my mission, is gettin into you like a religion, my woman's intuition tells me cupid's arrow's hittin, you're the prince with the glass slipper that my foot could fit in, this feelin that I have is never endin, I'm sendin, my love like Zhane' up in a box with the bow up on the top, cause, for you I got the hots so please accept these feelings I possess i'm like a damsel in distress in pursuit of happiness, I confess chorus: I've been really tryin' baby tryin to hold back these feelings for so long and if you feel, like I feel baby come on, ohhh, come on

Verse Two:

Many men wit mass appeal expand across the globe by the mills, but still I picked you like a daffodil cause you thrill me like magnetic fields that give my body chills, perserve my chocolate ties and it's a thrill; I'm sayin that when you swing my way I, get a sudden rush, that entices me not to keep it on the hush-hush, boy times girl times lust equals us, and you can count on that like you would an abacus so bust the equation, baby cause I'm facin the fact that I only think of you on two occasions, but I'ma max once I get this off my chest, and just let nature do the rest..

I confess

Chorus

Verse Three:

I wanna be down like brandy with you handy for the duration, engage in electric relaxation, build a conversation, probe ya intellect, put ya manhood to the test, but not just ya physical, ya individual is what I'm after, ya heart I wanna capture, I'm open like a space that NASA explores, truly do adore, every little move you make and more, my word is born but I could go on and on throwin hints, that I'm the chick, you should be celebratin life wit, so instead I felt it best if I just, stood and represented in the flesh, that I confess...

Chorus
