I am not myself today don't think i ever was tried to pick up the peices can't stop where i left off i am not myself today don't think I'll ever be again i believed it once and i regret it these words cut deeper than you know these scars confess all the pain i can't give you any more youve already taken everything i am not myself today i tried to hold on so kind of you remind me of all the things ive done wrong i am not myself today youve shown me this i am not myself today, but who is? these words cut deeper than you know these scars confess all the pain i can't give you any more youve already taken everything i will never be like you this is one thing i hold... close to my heart you leave me shattered I am not myself today don't think i ever was tried to pick up the peices can't stop where i left off i am not myself today don't think I'll ever be again i believed it once and i regret it i will never be like you
...and im shattered
