Today I thought that I could spend
The day inside my head
Away from all that you have sent Escape for my defense

Awake to see me standing there
Designed for all of time
You could't wait to take out all your share
And stray out of line

I'm leaving you now to get out of violence
It's getting me down to live here in silence
I keep up the pace, get out of the action
I'm hiding away from all the distraction

Today I thought I would escape
Away from all restraint
It's no t too late thought the wires never break
But the reign will still remain

I'm leaving you now to get out of violence
It's getting me down to live here in silence
I keep up the pace, get out of the action
I'm hideing away from all the distraction
Get me out of fear.
