We're halfway to midnight
All alone in this fight
Victory fades from view
When even lies were true
Your words wound like weapons
Towards everything we send
So drag us through the place
Displaying your pale face

To every broken bottle in this hall
I sold my soul,
'Cause I just don't know how
You could be apart from me
The life and the crowd
We never thought we'd know
Could never see why we feel so alone
Everything comes down to this choice now
Soon you'll see
You're the one saving me

So stop this useless trust
Bible of love and lust
If you could only see
Our leading legacy
Put out your fleeting flames
There's no one left to shame
From all your selfish claims
Soon, I'll be one to blame

To every broken bottle in this hall
I sold my soul,
Cause I just don't know how
You could be apart from me
The life and the crowd
We never thought we'd know
Could never see why we feel so alone
Everything comes down to this choice now
Soon you'll see
You're the one saving me

You fight the cold
We'll fight the fire

(You fight the cold, you fight the cold)
You fight the cold
We'll fight the fire
(You fight the cold, you fight the cold)
You fight the cold
We'll fight the fire
(You fight the cold, you fight the cold)
You fight the cold
We'll fight the fire

The life and the crowd
Could never see why we feel so alone
Soon you'll see
You're the one saving me!
