I don't know what's going on again
Forever you tear me back and forth and then you win
My life was suffocated
But somehow you changed your words and want them back again

So step aside and live your life
Don't tell me what you think is real
You open up and listen when I'm gone

So test yourself, don't try to fail
Don't blame me for your new betrayal
You opened wounds that once were closed again

Where did you go?
Why did you cry?
I'm still the one who might fall

Where did you go?
Why did you cry?
I'm still the one who might fall

You hardly recognize me
Whats the deal?
You hardly recognize the way you are
Promise me I'll get it through your eyes
Can't you see

You hardly recognize me
Whats the deal?
You hardly recognize the way you are
Promise me I'll get it through your eyes

I was so defeated, pulled into your fights
Everytime you pushed my needs aside
No one held me then I asked, "Why should I try?"
Promise me your anger will subside

So every time you heard the truth
You hardly recognize what did you do?
You open up, and this is what you've done

Inspired me from what I've found

You suddenly just change when I'm around
You killed my love, I'm breaking down again

Where did you go?
Why did you cry?
I'm still the one who might fall

Where did you go?
Why did you cry?
I'm still the one who might fall

You hardly recognize me
Whats the deal?
You hardly recognize the way you are
Promise me I'll get it through your eyes
Can't you see

You hardly recognize me
Whats the deal?
You hardly recognize the way you are
Promise me I'll get it through your eyes

(...GUITAR SOLO)

You hardly recognize me
Whats the deal?
You hardly recognize the way you are
Promise me I'll get it through your eyes

Where did you go?
Why did you cry?
(You hardly recognize me at all)
I'm still the one who might fall
(You say you wanna fix it, promise me that I'll get it through)
Where did you go?
(Never trusting you, sick of separation)
Why did you cry?
(Cleaning up this picture will solve this situation)
I'm still the one who might fall
(If I could see you'd crush me, devastating my life, promise me I'll get it through your)
Eyes
