These times call for the only one who knows just how it feels and I'm not worthy like everything I'll throw away.
I just thought I'd sit here 'till you say the words \\ "I'll stay five more days.\\ " There's a fading hope inside my mind you failed this time.
You'll always be the one who never made it out alive with every single second left of wishing for that tragic lifeless sound
devouring our hearts underground

(chorus)

Maybe your the only one I'll ever get through maybe thats the only thing I'll ever undo. you know we lost the war way back home. Where could you go (with no one) 'cuz I got to know now the beating of your broken hearted hell
you've shown me just how fucked up life could be.
These times call for the only one who knows just how it feels and i just want us to be more than what this world could see inside me.

Maybe your the only one I'll ever get through
maybe thats the only thing I'll ever undo. you know we
no one) 'cuz I got to know now the beating of your
broken hearted hell
you've shown me just how fucked up life could be.

you know we lost the war way back home. you'll find our souls with no one 'cuz i got to know now the beating of this broken hearted hell
you've shown me just how fucked up life could be
