"Begging For Acceptance"

One heart for acceptance cries out
Now there is no excuse
When all this time without you has gone by
And like the time without you beside this heart
Don't go...you know I won't go
I never want this to end

Now gone for a distance and a phone call, a desperate plea for truth
It's worth the time that without you has gone by Like the time I cried, "the time without is all alone"
Don't turn your back she said, don't turn your back she said.
You know I won't go..

I want you here with me.
I live for this moment
I walk so closed and empty
This roads a tough one
Surrounded by the sounds of your screams

Hear my plea
Don't turn your back she said
Hear my please, come ride with me
Don't turn your back she said
You know I won't go
