Still crazy about the way you look tonight
Every time you whisper, it brings me back in time Seeing you fall apart, is like saying you are the best at what you do
Well I don't know, what I don't know
And its all because of you Forget everything I know do you remember what I know

I watched you crawl away
No trace of a heart inside
A conscious wall was born
A moat as our great divide

A deceptive lapse

Futile access lies
Beyond these skies
My final attempt
Your final disguise

City walls
Collapsing from within Watch as I undermine

We finally lift the bridge that held us for awhile on other sides
A likely breach of sworn commitments over time

You take me on and on I'm fearing this is another one
We're falling in love
We're falling in love

You take me beyond the point of whats been thought
It's another one
We're falling in love
We're falling in love

My love is all that I can give My heart is true and we will find away
Can we find a way

Come and take my illusion
I cant stand on the other side
We're crossing our lines
