Raise your guns up to the sky
Write a letter say goodbye
I have tried so hard and failed myself
There's a war inside of me
It's a sleeping enemy
The bitter fight is on, behind these lines
And I'm not ready

As far as I run
I'm the only one I'm running from
Take everything from me
Just leave me yesterday
As far as I run
I'm the only one I'm running from
Take everything from me
This isn't who I want to be

Grab a hold these prison bars
I'm locked behind these fallen stars
Held here captive by my own, intentions
Face to face the mirrors lies
The soldier fights the soldier dies
The wounds will have to mend
Before they do, this race will have to end

As far as I run
I'm the only one I'm running from
Take everything from me
Just leave me yesterday
As far as I run
I'm the only one I'm running from
Take everything from me
This isn't who I want to be

Twisting my arms I've come to, the breaking point
As I lay here I'm given, my final choice
Running from myself until
I see a reason to stand still
I will find my way, I will find it
