Oh no, Andy's doin' time
Mike said, his home schools fine
And Jimmy, the job never ends
Now you gotta start again

Mom said, that Kathy's great
Look now, cause Angie's staying up late with journey
Shari and Jenn and I'm so glad they're friends
So I move on and on into the sun

You say I'm the lucky one
Am I really the lucky one
Hey Josh, how's the service
All this talk of war makes me nervous

But Deisel is comin' to the show
Tell me something I don't know
I know that Winston's the man
If you go in you better hide your hands

I bet that mamas been cookin' something good
I'd head home if I could
But I gotta move on and on into the sun

You say I'm the lucky one
Am I really the lucky one
Am I the lucky one
Yeah, the lucky one

Oh shack, I know moneys tight
But man don't give up the fight
'Cause we're moving on and on and on
We'll head out towards the sun
'Cause we're the lucky ones
Yeah, the lucky ones
