"Sun Stands Still"

I have been so worn and so spent
Medicate what's left and leave the rest
Fight to love and live I must confess
Medicate what's left forget the rest Stranger things have touched and graced the ancient eyes
And it comes as no, comes as no surprise

And I found it hard to believe
But I know that You will
Yeah I know Your will
Because the sun stands still
The sun stands still

Bathe in beams of love and jealousy
To breathe the light of heaves kiss
A million beams will wait just for me, just for me
You hold the day with bloodstained wrists

And I found it hard to believe
But I know that You will
Yeah I know Your will
Because the sun stands still
The sun stands still

Oh Jesus, You're the one who puts the hallelujahs on my lips
You're the holder of the sun, sweet salvation yes yes
Jesus you're the one

So when I stand on Gibeon
And when the night has come
I'm not alone, I see the light
Of the one, of the one I love

And I found it hard to believe
But I know that You will
Yeah I know Your will
Because the sun stands still
The sun stands still

Hallelujah, Hallelujah

Jesus you're the one
The holder of the sun
