"These are the days"

all day staring through the window I'm painting shadows on the wall all night I'm hearing voices telling me "you better find a way"

I got a little stuck inside a situation that I can't define maybe my sorrows blind me I better find a way find the way

these are the days
these are the days
I'm stuck in a moment
trying to get out again I'm trying to figure it out where is the map to guide us through it the journey that we all call life the answers to my questions so hard to find

we are thrown into this world, man whether if we want it or not we try to break the chains to save our souls to make us feel alive

trying to get out again
