Mankind is a source of many mysteries
One of them is the sickness that we all bare

A frightening virus, extremely contagious
And every human child is infected

Taste, see, feel and smell
Nothing can stop this plague from expanding it's useless to try
We stand by and look down as you try to save yourself
with prayers,
You're doomed, you will die

Your sins are saved for the next generation
And the Bible says that sins will make you burn
Human souls in neverending agony
The contagious sin will spread like fire

Sinners are not hard to recognise
According to the church every human is a failure
People trapped in their false beliefs
A holy crusade fulfilling all the lies

Taste, see, feel and smell
Nothing can stop this plague from expanding it's
useless to try
We stand by and look down as you try to save yourself
with prayers,
You're doomed, you will die

Your sins are saved for the next generation
And the Bible says that sins will make you burn
Human souls in neverending agony
The contagious sin will spread like fire

Epidemic supremacy
The world is drowning in filth
It's their punishment
It's the contagious sin!
It's the contagious sin!
It's the contagious sin!
