"Point Of View"

Two different people
Two different places
Through a one way window with
Two different faces

Agreements aren't reached
Faces are forgotten
The other person's shoes
You have got it

Stubborn minded
Enclosed to your own world
Wake up surrounded by someone Else's morals

What is right to you
Might be true

'Cause it's just a different
Point of view to you
You cannot see the things that are Different to me
And I cannot understand

Why you cannot see
The things that I cannot see

I see what you don't see
I see what you don't see
Turn around to the shadows
All around me

Two different people
Two different places
Through a one way window with
Two different faces

Agreements aren't reached
Faces are forgotten
The other person's shoes
You have got in
