Are you caught up in the everyday
Are you old enough to take some of the blame
Let love lead and let love find
Let love grow and make you a little blind
If you want to try now is the right time

Come on in the waters fine
I know it'll be alright
Come on in the waters fine
You can leave it all behind

Have you stayed still for so long you can't change
It's an easy thing to stop and seize the day
Let love flow and go against the grind
Just let love shed some light on your troubled mind
If you want to try now is the right time

Come on in the waters fine
I know it'll be alright
Come on in the waters fine
You can leave it all behind
