A peace is falling all around me
A calm of body, mind and soul
Tell me, can you feel this breathing
A breath of life into our cold
This warmth from heaven is so soothing
I feel I am becoming whole
A peace is falling all around me
A calm of body mind and soul

Hold me in Your love

I was on my hands and knees, begging for some rain
I knew what would make me clean, what would wash away the pain
I get up by the shore, when will I ever stay
I'm crawling through the mud and stone
To the deep of Your love again

Hold me in Your love
