We were born in a small town
We can't get enough of all the small town stuff
We're always looking for a good time
But what can we do, there's no place for me and you
All the local small town bands they play the same old songs
All the local small town drunks they're drinking all day long
I am standing here, I see the world fly by
Where are we going tonight?
Hey - One, Two
Go - Three, Four
We are the small town rebels
I might leave my small town but hear me when I say
I will come back some day
When I'm looking for a good time
You can never keep me away
All the local small town bands they play the same old
songs
All the local small town drunks they're drinking all day
long
I am standing here, I see the world fly by
Where are we going tonight?
