Not of this world entirely Heaven sent, you are my deity Lived through all the romance sadly meant for me

All I need is a sign Make your presence known to mine Come to me, I will be divine

I wear the spell you put on me Like a charm no one else can see Keeps away the wicked badly meant for me

All I need is a sign Make your presence known to mine Come to me and I will be divine

And when I thought my fire finally died I felt your spell tight as ever, tied

No one is above the rituals of love Temptation calls and the stars fall from the blue There is no limitation except for me and you

Lived through all the romance Sadly meant for me

All I need is a sign Make your presence known to mine Come to me and I will be divine

All I need is a sign Make your presence known to mine Come to me and I will be divine

All I need is a sign Make your presence known to mine Come to me and I will be divine
