Now I know you know
I tried to love you so
And now I have to go

You sound so inspiring when you pledged your support
But I've learned how to read right between the lines
And see into your thoughts the game that you're playing
You know, you almost had a win but I had a hunch of my own
You see and followed it to the end now

I don't have hard feelings against you
You only did what you had to do
But the time has come to let you know
I know about the loving show

Now I know you know
How I tried to love you so
And now I have to go

I've said that my music will play second love to none
But you haven't learned to love yourself you had to be the only one
The way that I feel, I really want you to succeed
So I don't understand why you simply can't recognize my needs

Well, I don't have hard feelings against you
I guess you only did what you had to do
But the time has come to let you know
I know about the loving show

Now I know you know
How I tried to love you so
And now I have to go

Now I know you know
How I tried to love you so
And now I have to go

I got a right to live and be in love

With music so fancy free
