How come it seems like it never goes right
Another struggle in this fucked-up life
Consumed by anger, infected with rage
My life will never be the same
Tortured, tormented, left to die
This punishment of war is suffering
Carcasses buried in unmarked graves
Distorted faces start to fade
Bodies emerged in pools of blood
The hollowed voices of the dead
I'm losing grip of reality
Intoxicated from rotting flesh
A prisoner of my own demise
Your worthless existence why don't you end it all
Why don't you end it all, why don't you end it all
There's no escape from this hell
I'm trapped within myself
Tortured, tormented, tortured, tormented
Tortured, tormented, tortured
