"Maria"

With waving dark hair and brown eyes
She stares you into focus
While pretending not to care
She's wondering if you really notice
That she can drive you insane
And she stop a train in those jeans
There's no other way to tell you
She knows what love really means

Maria, she's one in a million to me
Maria, she is the only one for me

And little does she know
She's the reason for every single dream
And little does she know
I'm comin apart at the seams
With one touch of her hand
She reminds me why i came to be
And I think it's time she knows
She's the only one for me
