I woke up Sunday with a feeling of doubt confessing my sins, oh to scream it out loud
I sin all week then I feel that Iâ'm proud, yes it's a Sad state of affairs
The cross is what guides me as I slowly descend I'll wash my hands of everything that I can I wake up Monday and I'll start it again yes it's a Sad state of affairs
I woke up Sunday with a feeling of doubt
Confessing my sins, oh to scream it out loud
You're the only one I seem to think about now yes I am lonely from despair Sometimes I feel that my mind is truly my own committing my sins is the only truth that i've known Eventually I hope to find my way home yes it's a Sad state of affairs

I woke up Sunday with a felling of doubt
confessing my sins, oh to scream it out loud
I sin all week then I feel that I'm proud yes it's a Sad state of affairs
