"Janie And Me"

Pair of sandals on the dashboard
Nothing on the radio
Both our footprints on the windshield
No particular place to go

Just a pair of melted milkshakes
Perched high above the lights of town
A little love can your earth quake
When sweet darkness falls around

This must be heaven looking down at the stars
Everything that matters is right here in this car

CHORUS

Janie and Me
We're holding on to love that sets us free
So goes the night for Janie and Me

Two clumsy hearts a beatin
Join in nature's dance
And we fumble with the feeling
Of the random act of chance

Yes, this must be heaven looking down at the stars
Everything that matters is right here in this car
