I grew up in a small town, had all those small town dreams
?bout a wife and family and all those simple things I watched Mom and Daddy struggle, they did the best that they could do to make sure we had a home to go home to.

Daddy was a long haul trucker, Momma was a good house wife.
Can?t really lay the blame on either one of them, they both started gettin? lonely at night After fifteen years of marriage they decided they were through and all at once we had no home to go home to

Chorus:

A house don?t make a home, that?s what Mom would always say
It?s nothing but a building once true love fades away You might live in a mansion all fancy and new and still not have a home to go home to

Well I made myself a promise if I ever left this town I'd find someone I really loved and do my best to settle down
But life can sure be funny, can play some real strange tricks on you Now I?m growin? old with no home to go home to

Chorus
